

PhD COMP

Self-Organised Student Workshops Autumn-Winter Semester 2019

What in the world we mean by comparative studies and how to get 'round CEC

*For contributions of material, ideas, or if you'd like to join our preparation group, contact:
Vanessa Montesi: vmontesi@campus.ul.pt
Jonas Prinzleve: jonas.prinzleve@campus.ul.pt*

1. Research Groups and Clusters

Intro to workshop

Introduction to CEC's professional and student-led research clusters: who, what, how, when best, why

How to organise a conference at CEC?

Meeting PhD COMP students of different years

Start of semester drinks

Save the date: Friday, October 4th 2019, 17:00-18:00

Room: B6 (next to library)

2. Comparative Studies

Where do they come from and where are they going

But mostly, what are they? Concepts and counter-concepts

-Intro to Qualitative Research, Ethics and Politics

-Keywords in Comparative Studies (on Drive)

Save the date: Friday, October 25th 2019, 17:00-18:00

Room: B6 (next to library)

3. Comparative Methodologies I: Working with Texts

Comparing Literature; Digital research ; Archival research; Discourse analysis;

Save the date: Friday, November 29th 2019, 17:00-18:00

Room: B6 (next to library)

4. Comparative Methodologies II: Working with Cultural Practices

Narrating (post-) memory; Visual arts of memory; Theater and Performance research;

Working with/across media

Save the date: Friday, January 31st 2020, 17:00-18:00

Room: B6 (next to library)

5. Methodologies in Comparative Studies III: Working with People as Interpreters/Creators

Interviewing; Community-engaged research and Activist research; Participant observation; Network analysis

*Practical info about Ethical Agreement

Invited professor: tba

Date: February 2020, 17:00-18:00 (tba)

Room: tba

6: Doctor, now what? How to find a way in the academic maze (or out of it)

Applying for Post-Doc: requisites, timing, opportunities and tips

Finding a Teaching Position: requisites, timing, opportunities and tips

Developing skills for non-academic jobs

Invited professor

Meeting with PhD-Comp students who graduated in order to share experiences

End of Workshop Drinks

Date: March 2020, 17:00-18:00 (tba)

Room: tba